MANUALITES'

FACES REFLECT THE HAPPY YEAR

Reflecting on '61 brings varied images to mind as our Ivian creates for each of us a mental "montage" of interesting classes, favorite teachers, fun-filled lunch periods, eventful club meetings, wonderful dances, and lasting friendships. We can relive this school year through these pages both now and in the years to come. All 1,973 of us Manualites are captured here by camera, and the highlights of our school year are recorded in print as we are

REFLECTING ON '61

Year 'Round, Each Day Crowds with Studies, Fun

Arriving at school, Dorothy backs into a space on the parking lot where some 450 cars are parked daily.

Like all of us, Dorothy's school day begins and ends at her locker where she keeps wraps, books, and "stuff."

High school days are busy days for students who enjoy studies and like being with people. Most of us carry a minimum of four solids and one or two half-credit subjects, so we spend much of each day in classrooms. After school, though, many find time to take part in extra-curricular activities. Every afternoon the building hums with club meetings and rehearsals, and the field or gym (depending on the season) overflows with athletes.

The Publications Office, headquarters for The Booster and Ivian staffs, is where active Dorothy Porter spends her "free" periods and after-school hours. As editor-in-chief, she may be found consulting with page editors, writing editorials, or working on page make-up.

Pam Haug, student library assistant, checks out a book for Dorothy who is working on a research paper.

Lunch time is a pleasant break in the day. Dorothy eats and chats with Sharon Smith and Carolyn Gobble.

As Booster Editor Dorothy's Day Depicts

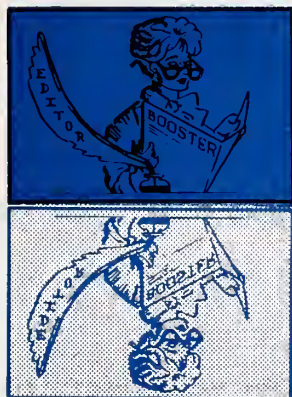

Dorothy works with Ron Cambridge on a problem in physics lab. Here many upperclassmen put in extra hours.

Mr. John Ciochina, Dorothy's trigonometry teacher, smiles with approval as he checks her homework.

TV Classes Reflect Modern Trends in Education

A master teacher makes a point with a pistol for a history lesson in one of the TV studios preparing lessons for airborne television.

Classroom instruction via TV came to Manual the second semester. We were the only Indianapolis high school to take part in the Midwest Experimental Program with Airborne Television instruction. Classes, telecast by means of a video tape from an airplane flying at a high altitude over north-central Indiana, were in biology, United States history, government, and world history. "With a television screen, each pupil has a front seat. In biology, for instance, a teacher telling of a frog can show it to everyone. In the ordinary classroom, perhaps only those in the front seats can see all he is pointing out," said Dr. Herman L. Shibler, education services director of the Midwest program. Our class schedule had to be rearranged to fit the telecasts, which were 30 minutes long, Monday through Thursday. On Friday, the period was used for tests, reviews, or lectures, or however the teacher wished.

Map shows the area covered by the Midwest Program on Airborne Television Instruction based at Purdue University and serving six states.

Social Studies, Science Join Airborne Experiment

A pilot mans the controls on a DC6AB aircraft that is used to beam instructional telecasts to some 13,000 Midwest schools of which Manual is one.

Manualites gain a knowledge of the past and present in our Social Studies Department. Courses are offered in world history, United States history, government, economics, psychology, international relations, and world geography. The Lilly Endowment Scholarship is awarded to a major for a paper about Social Studies, and The Human Liberties Awards are given to five students who make the best score on an examination in the spring.

College prep students acquire a good foundation through our Math and Science Department. Math courses range from general math to analytical geometry. Algebra I-IV and solid and plain geometry are also included. Manualites may take freshman science, physical science, biology, chemistry, or physics. Manual Scientists Tom Fink, Martha Goode, and Linda Wotring were cited in the Indiana Science Talent Search. Tom was a winner.

Mr. John Krueger's U. S. History II class listens to and watches a lesson during the experiment this semester.

All Major in English; Some Master Other Languages

Steve Brownlee listens intently to a French lesson.

The twenty-five teachers in Manual's English Department promote creativity in English through contests—such as short story, poetry, and essay. On the Academic or Fine- and Practical-Arts Diploma, eight semesters of English are required while the other plans require six semesters. New this year is a Dramatics class. In the spring, on English Honors Day, students who have excelled in English and languages are recognized and awarded prizes for their contributions. Manual was represented in outside competition such as the Indiana University Regional English Exam. Sara Broz, senior, was a national winner in the competition sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English; Paula Williams, senior, received honorable mention. In the Language Laboratory, students are able to hear themselves recite in the modern languages—French and Spanish, by the use of speakers and tape recording equipment. One of the projects of the French classes was the publication of a bi-weekly newspaper, "La Souterrain." The paper provided French students a chance to apply the language.

Melony Doty, Nancy Wolford, Kathy Burks, Judy Bernhardt, and Janet Lowe from Mrs. Stewart's English IV class portray characters from the novel, Silas Marner. They presented a skit for several other English classes.

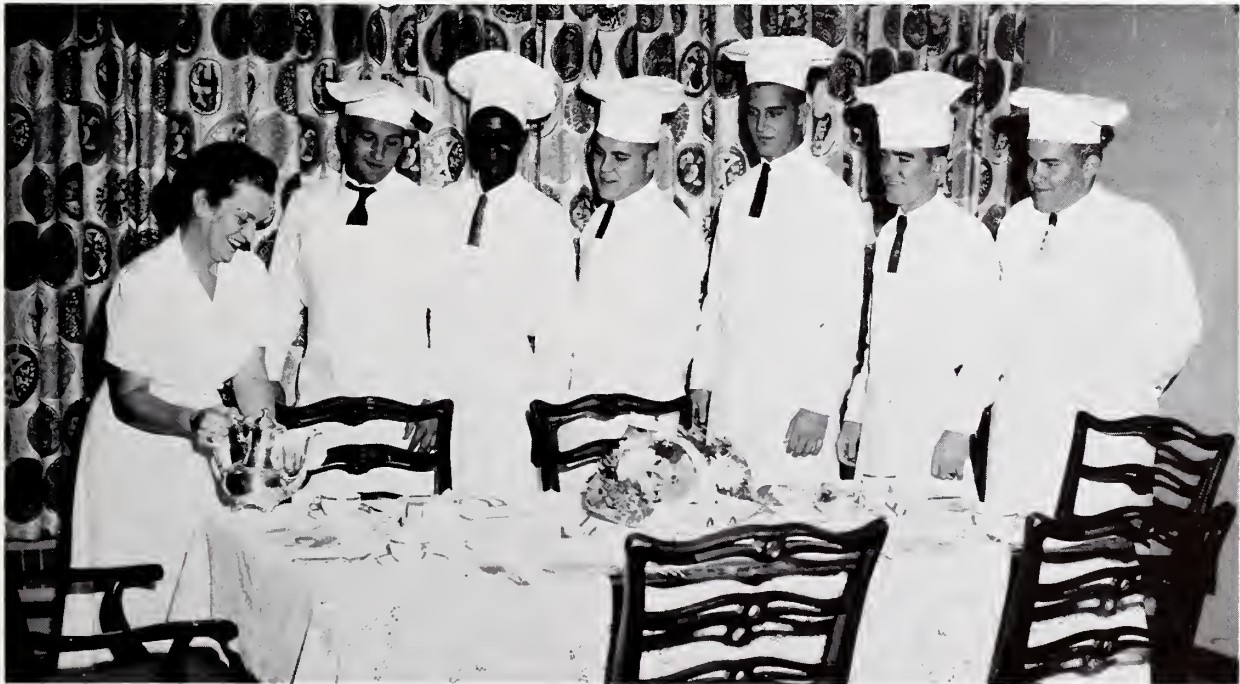

Future Homemakers Learn to Cook, Sew

It takes a "heap" of work and skill to make a house a good home. Home Economics classes at Manual teach homemaking skills such as cooking, sewing, and living graciously such as foods classes, girls learn to plan, prepare, and serve nutritious and tasty meals. In social practice classes, students learn to plan teas and parties, set tables correctly, and practice good grooming. Practical experience is available when the students prepare for and serve at the activities of the Home Economics Department; for example, students served luncheon to Indianapolis principals when Principal Stahl was host for a meeting of administrators. Also, members of boys' foods classes, wearing chef hats, served luncheon to the speakers for Opportunity Day. In sewing classes, girls select various garments to make. As a school service project, the sewing classes made Pep Club mittens. Advanced sewing classes learned tailoring.

Typing students throw away the old "hunt and peck" method as skill and precision develop through practice and drill.

Business Teachers Train Us In Practical Skills

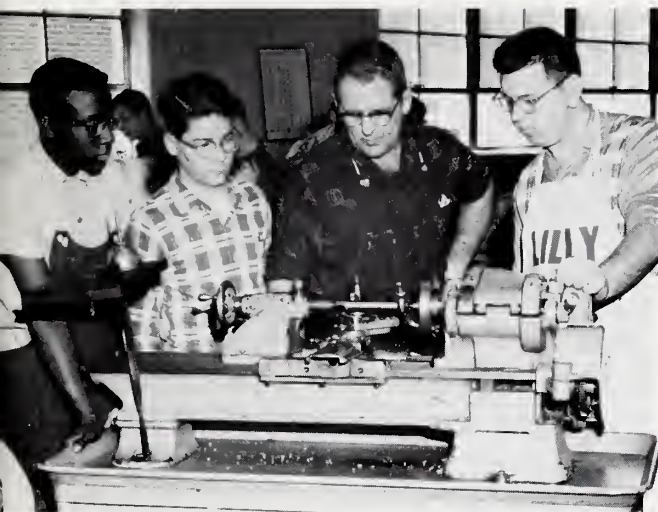

In the Business Education Department, second semester, 1,597 Manual students took advantage of the opportunity to develop their skills in operating business machines and in learning office procedures. Though some were not preparing for careers in business, 548 students, in the spring, were enrolled in typing classes. Students realize the value of typing skill whether they intend to choose business as a career or to continue on with their formal education in college. Business students also learn to operate the multigraph, ditto, and mimeograph machines. From the dictaphone, they type as they listen to letters that have been recorded on tape. Other business courses include the composition of various types of business letters, messages, and applications for employment. Office training classes enable students to perform secretarial duties and to do production work for the school.

Judy Hogue listens to "the voice" on the dictaphone, as she types a business letter in response.

Noramae Branham and Mona Cole mimeograph material as part of their work in a business class.

Bill Glaspie, Tony Ferguson, and Richard Cuthbertson work with Mr. Dale Reid at the lathe in Machine Shop.

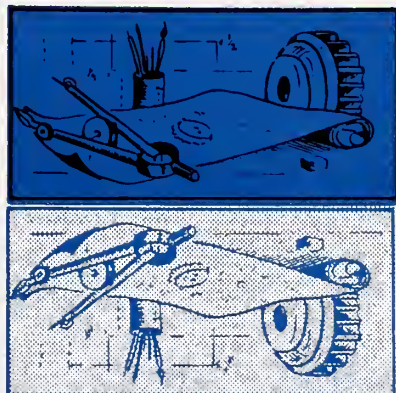

Machine shop boys prepare to meet the standards of modern industries. Boys interested in the "how and why" of automobiles find opportunities to work on and to investigate engines in auto shop. Advanced auto shop pupils repair their own cars and those of trusting friends and faculty members. In the electrical shop, students plan wiring layouts, and they practice on the framework of a house located in the classroom. In wood shop classes, students first turn out bowls, lamps, and other small objects on the lathe; as they increase in skill, they make pieces of furniture for their homes, often from their own design.

Louis Rigney, C. O. Montgomery, Barry Eden, Terry Hannon, Robert Drotz, Jerry Cummins, Steve Boone, and Cecil Yates clean and repair engine parts.

Boys Gain 'Know How' In Manual Training Shop

Since 1895, Manual's Industrial Arts Department has educated workers for industry. Shop courses include printing and mechanical drawing, machine, auto, electrical, and wood shop. Besides solving daily blueprint reading problems, mechanical drawing classes design much of the equipment used in the department. In printing classes, programs, tickets, and posters for school events furnish practical experience for students.

Our Art Students Practice Fine Arts, Crafts

Silk screening senior arm bands are Bill Borden, Carol Bidgood, and Dick Listenberger, designer.

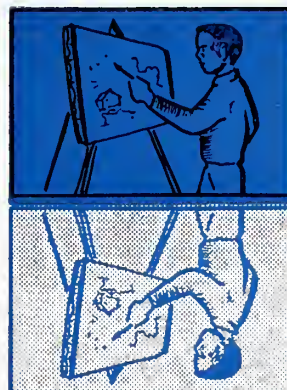

Students who like art find many modes of self-expression in Manual's Art Department. Beginning art courses offer fundamentals in the various media of art. Advanced courses allow students to work with techniques in which they are interested. In craft courses, pupils work in leather, plastics, textiles, clay, and paper. In jewelry classes, wire, copper, brass, aluminum, and silver are used for making cuff links, bracelets, earrings, and other articles. The Art Production class does school service projects; the senior banner and senior arm bands, designed by Dick Listenberger, are made by this class. This class made posters for the Music Department's "Kiss Me Kate." Red-skin Revue posters, designed by Dick Listenberger, and programs, designed by Terry Steadham, were other contributions.

David Bird, the old lamp lighter, poses as members of an advanced art class get practice in sketching.

The Fine Arts display at the Student Project Fair showed work from all levels of art done in various media—pencil, charcoal, watercolor.

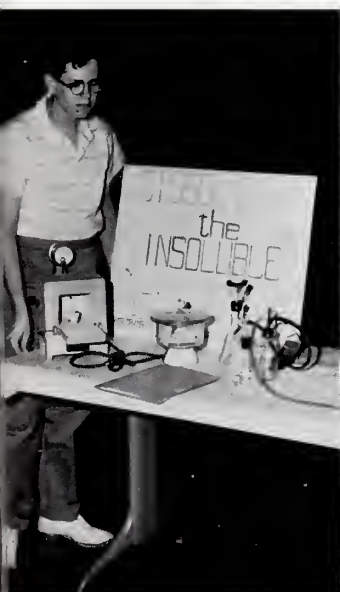

Annual Projects Fair Stimulates Initiative

All departments at Manual exhibit student work at the annual Student Projects Fair in one big show in the gym at the close of second semester. The English Department exhibit includes such things as essays, poems, and themes; and Art Department shows crafts and paintings; and Home Economics displays the handiwork of student seamstresses and cooks. Industrial Arts displays metal and wood work.

Entries are judged and ribbons are awarded for first, second, and third places. The Fair is open to students who visit the exhibits with classes during school. A P-TA meeting at Fair time makes it possible for parents to visit displays. The Projects Fair stimulates students to do their best work and to share it with others. At the same time, this activity provides competition among Manualites.

Jerry Steadham inspects a science display at the Project Fair. Ted Snider examines a miniature house; Claudia Dailey, a weather vane. Both were contributed by the Metal Shop. Many outsiders visited the Fair.

At the Armed Forces Day Parade, Keith Davis, Jerry Fox, John Aldrich, and Dennis Drinkwine, stand at ease.

Everyone loves parades; and when our ROTC Battle Group participates, many Manualites are on the sidelines. Such an occasion was last November 11 at the Veterans Day Parade. Besides being in parades, members serve the school regularly as messengers, ushers, doormen, and guards for activities like home basketball games, Redskin Revue, Open House, and other school-sponsored functions. On Thursday and Friday, the cadets dress in full uniform. On Friday, they stand inspection with one of the six honorary cadets officiating. The honorary cadets are girls chosen by the ROTC from Senior candidates. Many cadets participate in the activities of the Rifle Team, Drill Team, and ROTC History Club. At the ROTC's annual Military Ball, a Queen of the Ball is chosen from the six sponsors and eight girls from the school at large.

ROTC Disciplines Cadets in Deportment, Service

On Turn-About Day during National Education Week, students took the places of many teachers. Here, Jerry West, acting as ROTC Commandant Sergeant O. J. Nunnery, instructs a class in the care and use of a rifle. Jerry was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel second semester and served as cadet commander the rest of the year.

Seniors Take 'Turn' During Education Week

Many Manual Seniors took the places of administrators and teachers on Turn-About Day during National Education Week in November. These students spent the entire day with their counterparts and were briefed about the various duties connected with these positions. Some students taught classes and others filled office jobs or acted as department heads or directors. They had lunch in the Teachers' Nook of the cafeteria and were entertained at a punch party in the Social Practice Room at the close of school by the P-TA.

Mrs. Frances Stewart and Nancy Ferguson are served by P-TA President, Mrs. R. E. Royer. BELOW: Teachers entertain their student counterparts at lunch.

"Varsity scholars" Tom Fink, Bill Styring, Larry Lindley, and Paula Williams represented Manual on the television program, "Expedition to Knowledge." They won their first match against Scecina and met Sacred Heart in the second round. The team was coached by Mrs. Vivian Siener, Dean of Girls at Manual.

Homecoming Crowd Fills Stands at Delevan Field

Bonnie McKinney's face lights up as she is proclaimed Queen. Alice Hughes and Noramae Branham look on.

Homecoming, October 7, at Delevan Smith Field, was made complete by the first win in 15 games for the Ellismen, a 20-7 victory over the Southport Cardinals. The Marching Band, under Director William Kleyla and Drum Major Dennis Eichoff, formed its traditional "Block M." The white carpet was rolled out by freshman football players, Victor Jacobs and Robert Cummins, after which Jim Cummings, King Manual VIII, and Queen Bonnie McKinney were crowned by the '59 royalty, Sue Hawley and Bob Cooper. Senior Steve Brownlee, accompanied by the Girls Glee Club, serenaded with "Girl of My Dreams." Bearers of the royal crowns were Freshman Papooses Linda McQueeny and Chuck Williams. The royal couple were paraded around the field in a decorated convertible driven by Jack Simpson. The King and Queen were elected by an all-school vote from Seniors nominated by the Class. Other candidates were Lee Foster, Tim Martin, Dick and Tom VanArsdale, Noramae Branham, Alice Hughes, Roberta Perkins, Jan Stephenson.

Homecoming Queen Bonnie and King Jim Cummings, proudly wearing their crowns, parade down the white carpet through an aisle of serenading Glee Club members to their royal car in which they were whisked off.

Throughout Year, We Dance at Hops, Formals

Reflecting on the year's social events at Manual, we see that dances played an important role in extra-curricular activities. The 1960-61 season began with the "Pigskin Prom." Later, the annual "Pic Parade" featured the crowning of King Ivan and Queen Ann, and gave us a chance to exchange "chums." School closed for Christmas vacation with the Choir's "Snow Whirl," the one all-school formal. Between semesters, Martha and George Washington were crowned at the "Cherry Tree Hop," an annual dance given by the Girl's Glee Club. Throughout the basketball season, after-game dances were sponsored by Student Affairs Board. March 17 was the date of the ROTC's Military Ball. Dances in the cafeteria on both Junior and Senior Days highlighted these two memorable occasions. Later in the spring, were the Junior and Senior Proms.

Maurice Kindle, Douglas Goode, and Karen Smith decide to "sit this one out" at the "Snow Whirl" formal.

Masoma Jo Ann Kattau crowns Dave Scheib "King" of the Pigskin Prom, sponsored by the Masoma and Roines.

Couples enjoy music and dancing at the "Snow Whirl" Christmas dance, sponsored by the Choir, vacation eve.

Guest speakers invited to a "coffee" in the library before their scheduled meetings were served by Home Economics Department faculty members. Here, Mrs. Wanda Long pours coffee for a guest.

Manualites Hear Advice on Future Jobs, College

Mr. Lewis W. Gilfoy, Supervisor of Secondary Education, answers a question for Judy McBride after his session.

Opportunity Day at Manual, which is scheduled in January, is set aside for looking into the future and thinking about what lies ahead. Manualites attend special sessions to learn of careers and colleges in which they are interested. An auditorium speaker in November directed our thoughts to plans for the future; and after this program, we signed up for the "Opportunity Day" session we preferred. On Opportunity Day, guest speakers from many different businesses gave information on vocations; and representatives from Indiana colleges informed college-bound students of entrance requirements and curricula. Manualites acted as chairmen, assisting and introducing the speakers. Our guests were invited to a "coffee" in the library before their scheduled meetings. After the programs, the speakers toured the building and then were served lunch in our cafeteria by members of the Boys' Foods Class.

Linda Hansen, student chairman for the Butler University session; Miss Judy Rodman, Manual teacher; and Mrs. Sheila Broberg, Butler Admissions Counselor and the speaker, greet Mr. Wallace S. Sims, member of the Board of School Commissioners, who "looked-in" on our Opportunity Day.

Moms, Dads Number Among Our Best Fans

Many of our parents are ardent Manual fans and follow Redskins' performances on the big auditorium stage, as well as on the field and in the gym. They really help out when they become members of the Parent-Teachers Association and Dads Club. These organizations have as their sole purpose aid to Manual. They work together to sponsor projects which provide fun and entertainment for Manualites and also raise money for various extras around the school and for scholarships. This year's big money-making projects helped to finance the installation of the equipment used in our new television classes. The P-TA's one big activity, the annual "Pow Wow," April 28, included a supper in the cafeteria, games and booths in the gym, and a vaudeville show, presented by students, in the auditorium. Dads Club members manned the concession stands at Delevan Smith Field during football season, and at the gym during basketball season. Their annual fish fry, in September, and the Italian Spaghetti Supper in February, also helped the Dads meet their budget.

'61 Revue Includes From Cavemen Times To Space Age

The 1961 Redskin Revue was a spectacular presentation given on Friday and Saturday nights, March 24 and 25. The production involved hours of work and many people. Members of the four casts began rehearsals weeks in advance and finished off the last two weeks with several night rehearsals. Costumes were a joint effort on the parts of parents, cast members, and faculty sponsors. Sequins, ribbons, and yards of various kinds of cloth, left stores in great quantities and made their way into homes of the participants. Mr. Carl Wright's stage crew became set designers and builders for the year's largest production. Dress rehearsal was the last chance for faculty and student sponsors to get together and polish the acts. Efforts were rewarded the nights of the show when we Manualites enjoyed "the fruits of our labor." Individual awards were presented on Friday night. Members of the winning act, "Like Schoolsville," captured two of these including the winning chorus line. Shirley Kratowicz received the best-actress award.

Author-directors of "Like Schoolsville," the award winning act, were Mary Jane Winstead, Sharon Todd, and Tim Brown. The "Cup" was presented Saturday night.

The best-actor trophy went to Steve Miller of "Cave Man Capers." Billie Myers of "Those Idiotic Earthlings," earned the best comic portrayal award. A trio of tap dancers—Tom Baxter, Jackie Baker, and Martha Dexter—was named "best team," "It's Getting Deep."

"Like Schoolsville," named "Best Act" by a committee of guest judges, was set in a school for beatniks. Victoria Van Snob (Jennie Perry), a "cool chic" from the outside world, arrived intending to register. However, "Big Daddy" (Rex Anderson), the principal of the school, fell for her, decided there were better things outside their "jive world," and prepared to leave. Faculty sponsors were Miss Phyllis Greve and Miss Judy Rodman.

"Cave Man Capers," sponsored by Mary Beth Fill and Ginny Blumhardt, took place in the pre-historic village of Noe Lava, which was plagued by dinosaurs. Faculty sponsors were Mrs. Rae Phillips and Mr. Edward Hegarty.

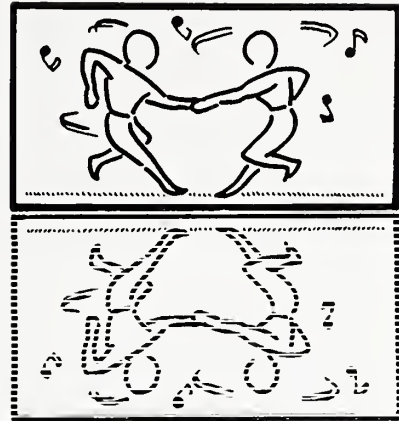

"It's Gettin' Deep" was written and directed by Jerrene Bowers, Lynda Haas, and Susan Kahn, assisted by Mrs. Jean Shelton and Mr. Millard Arnold, faculty aids. Frogmen, looking for a bomb, find exotic under-water creatures.

"Those Idiotic Earthlings" came from the imaginations of Jerry Steadham and Bob Surber. Men from Mars, who had learned about Earth from TV, arrived to visit. Mr. Wayne Dunbar and Mrs. Wanda Long were sponsors.

REFLECTING ACTIVITIES

Activities and organizations play an important role in the development of our personalities and the furthering of our educations. All kinds of clubs are available for Manualites' varied interests. Some clubs relate to courses, such as language, math, and science. Others are honoraries to which persons must be invited.

Top Seniors Make Masoma, Roines Service Clubs

Masomas Shirley Kratowicz and Jennie Perry assist Freshmen Ron Drahos and Roger Day on their first day.

Since 1914, the ambition of every active Senior has been to join one of the Senior honoraries—Roines for boys and Masoma for girls. Roines was organized in 1914, followed by Masoma in 1915. Both organizations serve the school. At the beginning of each semester, Masomas assist new Freshmen in their Home Rooms and guide them on a tour of the building. A get-acquainted party was the Masoma-Freshman Mixer for incoming 9-B's, with a prize awarded for the best name tag. Alums at Manual's 66th birthday party in February were served and registered by Masomas as were guests at the Fall Athletic Banquet. Filling a Christmas basket with food for a needy family was a Christmas project to which Mr. Lou Parnell contributed a turkey. The family was selected by Mrs. Gertrude Hopper, social worker here.

Freshmen are greeted and assisted by Roines members who also offer individual tutoring to those in need of help with their studies. This year they revised their booklet, "How to Study," which will be distributed to future new freshmen. Their annual Christmas project is the placing of the large, traditional wreath above the main entrance. Roines paid admission for eighty orphans to see the Junior League play, "Greensleeves." Masomas ushered at the play. Roines boys manned the check-room at the Alumni birthday party in February. Varied speakers, from Mr. C. Edgar Stahl, principal, to Mr. Roger Ward, race car driver, gave talks at their meetings. These two service organizations combine efforts for joint projects such as the Pigskin Prom, honoring the football players. A "Meet the Team" night in April honored our championship basketball team and their parents. It started off with a program in the gym and ended with a dance in the cafeteria. Student Affairs Board underwrites such activities.

Honor Society Cites Top Pupils; SAB Serves All

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY officers, Tom VanArsdale, president; Jan Stephenson, secretary; Sherry Braun, treasurer; and Dick VanArsdale, vice-president, help Mr. Ed Wall, sponsor, prepare the large torch for initiation, which was April 23 in the auditorium.

Thirty-seven new members were initiated into the Manual chapter of the National Honor Society, Sunday afternoon, April 23. Parents and friends of the fourteen juniors and twenty-three seniors attended the ceremonies in the Manual auditorium. Membership in the organization is determined by faculty vote based first on scholarship, and then on leadership, character and service.

The first Manual Student Affairs Board was originated in January, 1948, by Mr. E. H. Kemper McComb, then Manual principal. Since that time the Board has sponsored projects which provide entertainment for students and aid for the school. Members are chosen by student vote. Representatives from every Home Room assist the Board, which monitors all-school elections. Dances after basketball games are sponsored by the Board. A scholarship fund in memory of Don Kleppe, who died in September as a result of a football injury, was also set up this year. Mr. John Patten, Dean of boys, is faculty sponsor. The faculty is represented on the Board by Mr. John Edwards and Mr. Ray Hawkins.

Prize Journalists, Actors Rate National Honoraries

National Thespians and Quill and Scroll are two national honorary societies to which qualified Manualites may be invited. Our Thespian Troupe 1492 is sponsored by Mr. Fred Bennett. To be eligible to join a student must maintain a "B" average and must have accumulated a certain number of points by participating in such dramatic activities as the Redskin Revue, Mask and Wig plays, the operetta, the Tee Pee Talent Parade, or in some non-school production. Seniors who wished to join were contacted in their home rooms; juniors received letters; and qualified sophomores received special invitations.

Juniors and seniors who have worked on a publications staff for at least a year may be elected to Manual's Gretchen A. Kemp Chapter of Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists. Each year on Honors Day, Quill and Scroll presents journalism awards. This year, initiation was in the Alumni Room in December. Afterwards, initiates, actives, and sponsors dined together.

Booster Headlines Activities as They Happen

The Publications office houses the Booster staff, the Ivian staff, and the News Bureau. Members of the news bureau, who are also on the Booster staff, send releases to the three Indianapolis newspapers and neighborhood papers. "Keeping Manualites informed" is the job of Manual's busy newspaper staff. Interviewing newsmakers, setting up pages, and especially meeting deadlines, are all jobs which Booster staffers know well. Following our basketball team has been a difficult job for Booster sportswriters. Copy must be ready by Friday and because of the weekend games, flexible plans had to be made. Our obliging Champs made it unnecessary to rewrite pre-game written headlines. For the second year the Booster received the Freedoms Foundation Award—the "George Washington Honor Medal"—for editorials. The money accompanying it was also welcomed by the staff.

For the past three years The Ivian has received the "All-American" honor rating from the National Scholastic Press Association, which gave this year's staff a high goal. Work on the Ivian began last summer at Indiana University Journalism Institute and continued until the mid-spring deadline. Staff members were kept busy writing copy, planning pictures, and doing the various jobs necessary for "reflecting" life at Manual.

A "political campaign" auditorium, complete, with posters, speeches, and rallies, started this year's Ivian sales off with a bang. To help finance the book, Ivian staffers sponsored the "Pic Parade," a dance at which underclass pictures were sold, and King Ivan and Queen Ann were crowned. Ivians are always distributed at the "John Henry Hop" in June where Manualites look over yearbooks and trade autographs with favorite classmates.

Delegates nominated the Ivian as "Book-of-the-Year" during the Ivian's sales campaign auditorium. Dennis Eichoff, Redskin party chairman, presides at the party convention, attended by some 2,000 Redskins.

Redskin Band 'Marches'

Manual's Band is four award-winning bands in one. The Band Year begins with the Marching Band in the fall, continues with Pep Band during basketball season, and ends with the Concert Band spring semester from which the Dance Band is selected to provide music for the Redskin Revue. Entertaining with spectacular half-time shows at football games, the band used new spinning bass drums this year, added six new twirlers, and was led by a new drum major, Dennis Eickhoff. Marching in the Christmas, Veterans Day, Armed Forces Day, and Clean-Up parades are annual events for band members. The Redskin Band also participates in various civic events, plays concerts, enters contests, and provides music for the annual ROTC inspection in May.

With Glamour, Honor

The Pep Band adds sparkle to basketball games, and the Color Guard participates in pre-game ceremonies. For the second year Manual's Redskin Band received a perfect score in the Indiana Schools Music Association Marching Contest. After winning the Kiwanis "Most Outstanding Football Band" award for six consecutive years, the Redskin Band received the runnerup award in its seventh try. Also this year, the band won a first division rating in the ISMA playing contest. Band members took part in the District and State Solo and Ensemble Contest, winning many "firsts" for their achievements. The All-City Band, and All-City Orchestra received support from Manual bandsmen. All in all, countless hours are spent the year-round in preparation and performance.

Choir, Orchestra Combine Talents for 'Kiss Me Kate'

"Kiss Me Kate" was the musical production staged by the Manual choir, November 23, in the auditorium. The choir and orchestra combined to present this Cole Porter favorite based on Shakespeare's "The Taming of The Shrew." Steve Brownlee, who was actually Fred Graham off stage, sang the lead as Petruchio in the Shakespearean play. Rita Verhines, Fred's ex-wife, was his sweetheart in the play. Also, the choir has sung at several outside activities—church meetings and conventions. The entire choir participated in the choir-orchestra concert and the "May Music Festival." Smaller groups composed of choir members also performed during the year.

In addition to accompanying the choir in "Kiss Me Kate" our orchestra has made several appearances on the Manual scene. The forty-two member orchestra participated in a special choir-orchestra concert in January. A week later, the group joined other high school orchestras from Indianapolis in presenting the "All-City Orchestra Festival" in a mass group. The "May Music Festival" was a combined performance of the whole music department. Commencement in June is the last performance of the orchestra. During the year programs for the P-TA meetings were also given by the String Ensemble composed of two violins, a viola, a cello, and a piano.

Stage Crew Puts 'Shows on Road' Properly 'Set'

Members of Manual's Stage Crew spend hours after school to construct "flats" and scenery for auditorium productions. There is more to "setting the stage" than building and painting; lighting and sound are important, too. Stage lights are operated from a large control panel backstage. Before the curtain is raised on a production, various types of lighting are tried until the desired effect is achieved. Sound, too, is controlled by the crew. This year, big stagings by the crew were for "June Mad," presented by Mask and Wig; "Kiss Me Kate," produced by the Choir; the Redskin Revue, and the Senior Class Play. Mr. Carl Wright supervises the stage crew.

Stage crew members, on the stairs, are Larkie Wilson, Sam Carlton, Mary Jane Winstead, Wayne Niehaus, and Ronnie Drahos. Below are Morris Ball and Ron Payne.

Mask and Wig Celebrates Twenty-fifth Birthday

Our Mask and Wig Club is for Manualites who have a flair for donning make-up, clamoring into costumes, and putting on a show. This year the club celebrated its twenty-fifth birthday with a special birthday program. Past members of the club, and other alumni of Manual who participated in dramatics before the club was started, attended a dinner in the Manual cafeteria. After the dinner several members of the present club presented a one-act comedy, "The Ghost Of A Show," which concerned a group of high school students who were having difficulty getting "into" the roles of Romeo and Juliet. They were finally urged into a good performance by the appearance of the ghost of Shakespeare. October 22, Mask and Wiggers took to the stage to present a three-act play, "June Mad," by Florence Ryerson and Colin Clements. It was given in the Manual auditorium and was followed by a record hop in the cafeteria. The play centered around the love life of a teen-age girl who fell for a young man and tried to impress him with her "grown-up" ways.

The Mask and Wig Play, "June Mad," started a double-feature evening for Manualites. It was followed by a record hop. Cast members were, seated, Mary Winstead, Robert Huston, Pat Tolan, and Connie Dorville. Standing are Dian Canner, Steve Miller, Judy Harris, Jerry Fox, Tom Fink, Ken Hutson, Paula Switzer, Charles Shade, and Ronald Jones.

Elsa Maschmeyer, Sharon Chenoweth, Mary Louise Berry, JoEllen Walden, and Terri Stoneburner, officers of the French club, "parlez-vous" before a meeting.

Sherilee Thurston, program chairman for the Latin Club, serves punch at a special meeting. Other officers are JoAnne Brown, Sue Byers, and Mary Neesen.

Manual's Citizens League, sponsored by Mr. Harry Painter, is a club for Manualites interested in learning about our government and its functions. Members discuss current events and participate in debates concerning timely subjects. Historic events are also discussed in addition to other problems which give a closer look at Social Studies. At election time the Citizens League was especially active in discussing aspects of the contest. A mock election was conducted in all Social Studies classes which forecast Richard Nixon as our next president. This was in line with Indiana vote. A poll conducted by club members in the neighborhood produced the same results.

Language Pupils Meet Socially to Study

Three clubs at Manual provide students of foreign languages glimpses of the people to whom the languages are native — how they live and how their ancestors lived before them. These clubs — Latin Club, Spanish Club, and French Club — aid in the study of the languages by giving a better picture of their use.

Latin Club, sponsored by Mrs. Esther Steindorff, takes students back to life in ancient Rome. Name of the club is "Olympian Council." Members attended the annual state-wide Junior Classical League at Terre Haute in April. "The Underworld," a new publication at Manual this year, was written and edited by the French Club, which hopes to continue publishing this French-language newspaper next year. Highlighting the activities of the Spanish Club was a Christmas party for which several Spanish pinatas were made by club members and opened in traditional manner.

Officers of Citizens League, interested in government, meet to plan a meeting. They are Jerry Steadham, Gene Voelkel, Terri Stoneburner, and Jane Sprague.

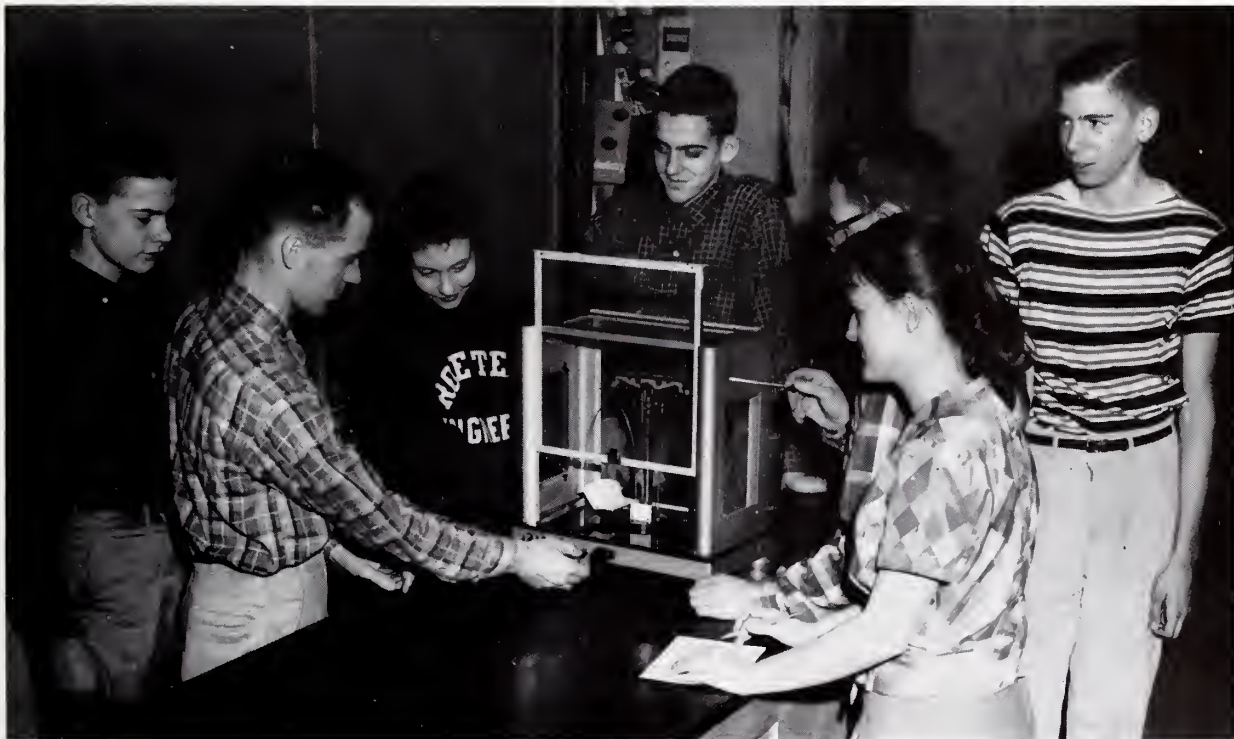

Science Labs 'Buzz' on Saturday Mornings

Manual science "bugs" receive an opportunity to display their talent and interest at weekly Science Club meetings. All students who enjoy tearing down problems and searching for solutions in the science field may join. The club meets every Saturday morning from 9 to 11 in the science labs. All school equipment is available to use by the club. Members spend the morning working on individual projects. Some of these are eventually entered in the Manual Project Fair and the Science Fair. The main purpose of these projects, however, is to promote interest and learning. Two different sections are offered—a biological section headed by Mr. Ed Wall, and a physical science section headed by Mr. Wayne Dunbar. The club went to Morgan-Monroe State Forest for a combination field trip and picnic during the fall, and several members participated in a physical science demonstration at the Hobby Show at the Fair Grounds.

WMHS Welcomes Each Day with Morning Show

Bob Lloyd, chief engineer for WMHS, mans the controls to put the station on the air. Assisting is Jim Weddle, one of Bob's engineer apprentices.

Manual is proud of its own radio station, over which news, music, and various announcements are broadcast daily by the Radio Speech Club. The club presents a regular 8:05 to 8:30 morning program. WMHS, sponsored by Mrs. Mildred Haskens, publicizes the many activities going on at Manual. Local and international news given by the daily newscaster benefits those teachers and students who rush to school without reading the morning paper.

Members of the Radio Club are instructed in voice placement, announcing techniques, writing continuity for programs, and compiling newscasts. New members may be apprenticed to the WMHS chief engineer for further experience with radio techniques.

Plans for the year included a visit to the police dispatcher's headquarters, where the pupils witnessed how calls come in and are transmitted on the air, and a visit to WFBM Radio and Television Station to see programs actually broadcast.

The club taped a half-hour play, "What Men Live By," for the Butler FM radio station—WAJC. Another service performed by the club was the taping of a musical program by Manual's instrumental and choir organizations, which was broadcast over WIAN-FM between games of the local Sectionals.

Future Nurses Serve As 'Candy Strippers'

Our active Future Nurses of America Club spends a busy year learning valuable facts about the nursing career from a knowing teacher, Miss Virginia Edds, the school nurse. The most important service performed by the girls this year was joining the staff at the Veterans' Administration Hospital as "candy strippers." Receiving their name from their red and white candy-striped uniforms, the girls do volunteer work at the hospital after having trained for two months last summer. In addition to entertaining the patients, the girls run errands, prepare pitchers of iced water, chart temperatures and blood pressure, and feed the patients. They have also visited other hospitals in the city. On Valentine's Day the girls filled nut cups, with candy hearts for an old people's home.

Working at one of their many duties, Candy Strippers Sarah Henson and Mary Neesen chalk up an afternoon of experience at the Veterans' Hospital.

Many Girls Find Fun In 'Y' Sponsored Clubs

The Tri-Hi-Y is a YMCA organization, sponsored at Manual by Mrs. Jean Shelton. Members are concerned with world service, community service, and school service. The club represented five countries in the Model United Nations this year—Peru, Italy, Iceland, Ireland, and Canada. This delegate activity provides excellent background and training for the future leaders of our country. Selling candy for "Clothe-a-Child" was the money-making project of the year. Y-Teens is an affiliate of the YWCA. This club meets for swimming parties and dances at the Central "Y." This year members made Easter baskets for an orphans' home as a service project. Every year several girls are sent from each Y-Teen Club in the nation to various summer conferences, where the girls exchange ideas about service and money-making activities. The Y-Teens of Manual are under the supervision of Mrs. Betty Donnella. A project undertaken by the Junior Red Cross this year was the sending of Christmas baskets to unfortunate children overseas. These baskets contained toys, games, and favors.

Future Teachers Tryout in Classrooms as Cadets

Students interested in entering the teaching profession may join the Future Teachers of America Club, sponsored by Miss Margaret Consodine, to learn more about the daily routine of a teacher and the requirements for the teaching field. Many of the FTA members devoted part of their time as student-aids to teachers. They graded papers, recorded grades, did typing and other jobs during their free periods. Senior members may become cadet teachers. This year 64 cadets were assigned to various classroom teachers.

FTA OFFICERS—Tina Linz, Martha Melton, Kathy White, Linda Thomas, and Joan Toenjes, confer before a meeting.

REFLECTING ATHLETICS

The trophy case reflects Manual's achievements in athletics. All Manualites are interested in sports whether they participate or are spectators. We back our teams to the limit and are proud of them—win or lose. Manual parents and alums also support our teams and give us moral backing.

Redskins Steam Up to Tally Winning Season

Manual's Varsity football squad, under the tutelage of Varsity Coach Noah Ellis, and assistant Coach "Mo" Moriarty, can well be dubbed the 1960 "comeback boys." Going into the fifth game of the season, the Redskin gridders had not won a football tussle in fourteen games. However, the Manual eleven rammed its way to five consecutive wins, closing with a winning 5-4 mark. Two of the senior linemen, Larry Short and Dick Foran, gained places on the Indianapolis Newspapers' All-City teams, with honorable mentions going to Jerry Cummins, Dick Cummings, and Dave Scheib, also seniors. Dick Foran was honored as Manual's Most Valuable Player by the team and coaches. Senior Dave Scheib and Junior Chuck Dennison tallied 100 of the team's total 185 points. Dennison, a Manual backfield member, led the team in points scored, placing second in the city.

Scheib, a three-year veteran quarterback, tallied 32 markers on runs and nine TD passes. Juniors Ron Cooper and Jerry Schnitzius followed in scoring, Ron getting 29 points and Jerry, 18. The kick-off game of the season was in the annual Jamboree at the Tech field, September 2. The Redskins, a member of the South-of-US-40 team, played Tech's Greenclads in the second period, and helped the South team win, 20-13, by out-scoring the "Big Green," 7-0. The opening four games on the Manual schedule went down as losses. The first was to Sacred Heart, 25-0. (The Spartans finished the year among the top-ten teams in the state and number one in the city.) The next three defeats went to Washington, 20-14; Howe, 13-12; and Cathedral, 7-0. This ended the 14-game losing streak. In the final five games, Manual out-scored opponents by a 2-1 margin, 159 points to 71.

Manual Loses Star Junior Back In Grid Accident

Don Kleppe, speedy Redskin halfback, suffered an unfortunate accident on the playing field during the second game of the season which led to his death the following morning, Saturday, September 17. "Butch," as he was called by fellow-students, was in his third year. He had played second-string halfback as a Freshman on the undefeated '58 team. Last year, the five-foot, eight-inch, 160-pound gridder suffered a concussion before the close of the football season; but, despite the injury, he went on to gain honorable mention on the Indianapolis Newspapers' teams. Don was posthumously awarded a halfback berth on this year's Indianapolis News' team. "Kleppe, who had a fierce desire to play football, certainly would have earned a spot on the honor varsity," the News said.

Year book Photographer, Bill Schmidt, snapped Don Kleppe in his usual football role — carrying the pigskin for the Manual Redskins — during his last game.

Ray Swinford, Manual Back, catches a pass as Chuck Dennison, a leading scorer, runs interference for him.

Senior Dave Scheib clicks off the yardage with pigskin in tow as Senior Dick Cummings blocks out opposition.

Coach Ellis' Varsity scored the first win in fifteen games, October 7, by knocking off south-side rival, Southport, 20-7, before a happy homecoming crowd of 6,000. The Redskin Express really started moving after the Southport win by more than doubling the four remaining opponents' scores. The second win of the year was over Ben Davis, 32-13. The Redskins avenged last year's loss to Broad Ripple next by a 34-19 count and then topped Shortridge, 40-6. Manual cinched a winning 5-4 mark by downing Harry E. Wood's team in a 33-26 comeback win. Juniors Ron Cooper and Jerry Schnitzius also showed well in the scoring column, Ron getting 29 points, ten of which came on extra point runs, and Jerry, tallying 18 markers on three touchdown scampers.

Coach Jack Johns' Reserves closed the 1960 schedule with a winning record of five wins, two losses, and one tie. The Reserve gridders nipped opponents with an over-all tally of 64 to 43 points in their eight games. The Redskins downed Wood's B-team, 14-0, in the "big" win of the season. Accounting for the remaining wins, Southport fell hard, 23-13; Ben Davis' Giants were nipped, 14-12; and Sacred Heart's Spartans were stunned, 7-0. Shortridge's Reserves forfeited. The game with Washington ended in a 6-6 tie.

Under the guidance of Coaches Lou Parnell and Tom Moore, the first-year 'Skins added another winning record of 5-2-1. Over-all, for the past four years, freshman teams have a 23-7-2 standing. The frosh opened in a tie with Washington, and their only two losses of the year went to Wood and Southport. Like the varsity, the first-year gridders closed with five consecutive wins: Howe, Broad Ripple, Ben Davis, Sacred Heart, and Shortridge all fell before the frosh. The Papooses piled up 108 points to their opponents' 52.

Cheerleaders Spark Enthusiasm of Pep Club, Fans

Cheerleaders, along with the Band, Pep Band, and Pep Club spark the spirit at basketball and football games. They are chosen by their appearance, ability to perform, and personality in the spring and practice throughout the summer in preparation for the coming season. Several attend cheerleading camps. Last fall, Varsity and Reserves, with their sponsor Mrs. Thelma Morgan, attended an annual cheerleading conference at Indiana University. Pep Club, over 200 strong, were dressed in white blouses, dark skirts, red and white mittens, and headbands with red and white feathers. At the beginning of the season, the girls wore only the headbands. When our team won its first game, the Pep Clubbers donned a red feather. After the second win, a white feather was added. If the team lost, the process was repeated, which seldom happened.

Carter Posts Best Time of Cross Country Season

Rounding a corner on one of the cross country turns is Junior Leon Carter, who posted Manual's fastest time this year of 9:58.1 in the Howe Invitational.

Manual's 1960 Cross Country team, under the direction of Coach Jack Foster, finished out the season with a one-win, four-loss record in dual meets. Leon Carter, a junior letterman, led the Redskin runners, posting his fastest time of 9:58.1 in the Howe Invitational, October 4. The squad will lose Bob Howell, Lou Trefry, Bob Skaggs, Carl Abbott, and Chuck Creasey by graduation. The only winning meet of the season was over the Panthers of North Central, 23-32. Leon Carter won a first place with a time of 10:50, and Lou Trefry placed in the second position with a time of 10:54. The Manual losses include Wood, Warren Central, and Howe. In the Washington and Southport Invitationals, Manual placed eighth and ninth, respectively. In a four-way meet, October 5, Manual's 'Skins placed second to Ben Davis, ahead of Wood and Sacred Heart. The Redmen placed ninth in the Howe Invitational and 22nd in the Shortridge run.

Grappler Mike Wiley Brings Home State Title

Manual's Varsity grapplers compiled the best won-lost record in the school's history, boasting an eleven won, two lost season. Losses were to city rivals Cathedral and Broad Ripple. Propelled by two fine coaches, Mr. Jack Foster, varsity head, and Mr. Jack Johns, reserve coach, the grapplers placed fifth in the city meet and defeated the defending state champion, Harry E. Wood High School. Mike Wiley, who is only a junior and was voted MVP by his teammates, led the grapplers for the second straight year by winning the state championship in the 103-pound class. Only losses to the team by graduation will be Dick Cummings, twice-sectional-champion, and Bill VanBibber, sectional runner-up.

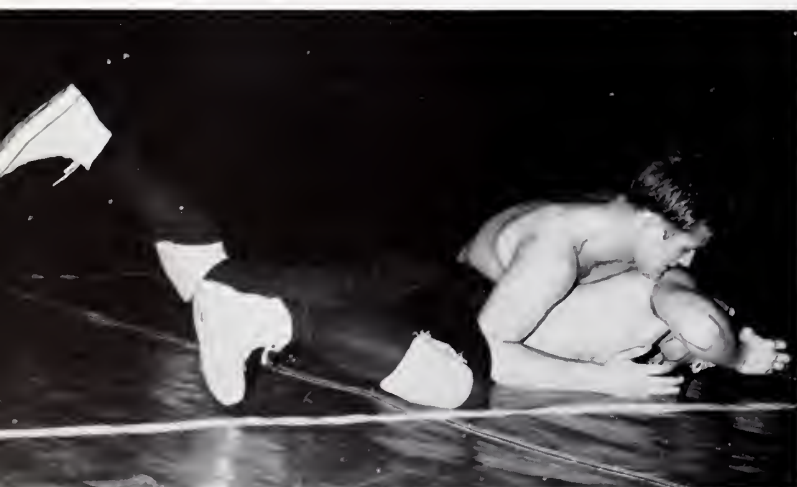

Shown above is State Champion, in the 103-pound division, Mike Wiley. The junior grappler was also awarded the MVP honor by the Manual wrestlers and coaching staff.

Prospects for Manual's 1962 season look good, for the Redskins on the Reserve team duplicated the varsity's fine season, posting an eleven-won, one-lost record. The freshmen grapplers also tallied a winning season record and placed second in the Freshmen City Meet.

Senior Grappler Dick Cummings is pictured and is the eventual winner of the match. Dick was a leader for Manual in the Sectional, gaining a runner-up berth.

Manual 'Skins Win Runner-Up Spot in State Final

Dual combination, Tom and Dick VanArsdale receive the coveted Arthur L. Trester Award from Mr. Harry H. Skillman, member of the IHSAA Board of Control.

Manual is the runner-up State Champion! The Redskins lost the championship to Kokomo, 68-66, in an overtime contest—the first in State final competition since 1918. Tom and Dick VanArsdale, three-year veterans, capped the season by winning the prized Arthur L. Trester Award for mental attitude and scholarship, first time the honor has gone to a dual combination. Tom and Dick also received the honors of MVP's and "Mr. Basketball" of Indiana. This title made them "first man" on the "Indiana All-Stars" team which plays the "Kentucky All-Stars" in two benefit games in June. "Tom" and "Dick" will "number" their shirts.

Coach Dick Cummins and Assistant Coach "Woody" McBride guided the Varsity to 19 wins and only two losses going into Sectional competition at Southport. Cathedral's Irish defeated Manual in the opening game, 63-53; but the team went on to a seven-game winning streak, scoring an average margin of 24 points over opponents.

Sacred Heart, Ben Davis, Bloomington, New Albany, and Terre Haute Gerstmeyer were defeated before the Cumminsmen entered City Tourney action. The Redskins downed Shortridge and Washington to meet Crispus Attucks in the final. The Flying Tigers dealt Manual out of the championship by a 59-54 score. With a record of 7-2, Manual's cagers went on a rampaging, winning binge, administering decisive defeats to 23 teams. Twelve opponents were knocked-off before the scheduled season ended and nine more were added in tourney action. In the twelve remaining season games, the Redskins bested tough opponents, including Columbus (winner of their Regional), Shortridge (one of two teams to defeat Muncie Central), and arch-rival Southport (by 15 points in the last game). Manual defeated four teams of the 13-team competition to add the second straight Sectional win, February 25. Having to weather deep snows, plus New Palestine, Greenfield, and Franklin Central, Manual reached the final game with Vernon Township. The Big Red five defeated the hot-shooting Flashes 58-41.

Tears of joy fall around Head Coach Dick Cummins, surrounded by the varsity cheerleaders. Coach Cummins' Redskins had just defeated Muncie Central to advance to the Finals of the State Tourney.

Basketball Consumes Four Hectic Saturdays

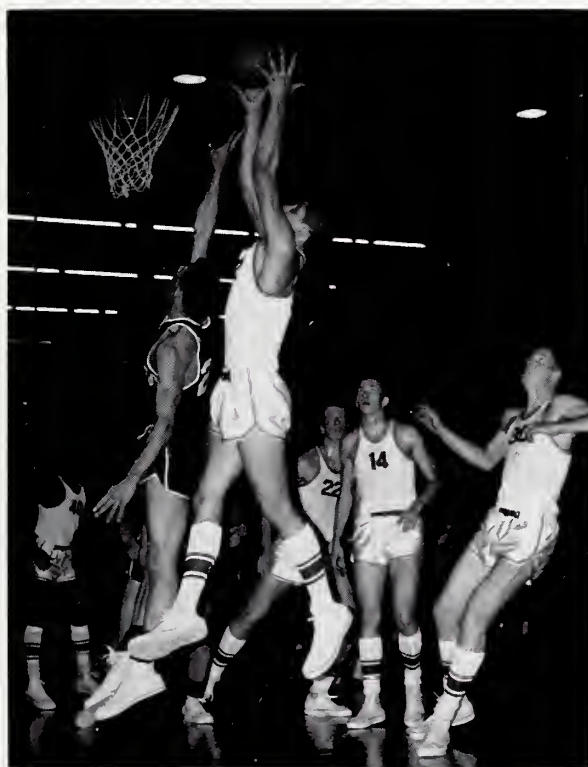

Butler Fieldhouse loomed as the playing ground from the Redmen cagers for the next three weeks and six games. With a 23-win, two-loss, highly praised record, Manual opened against Plainfield in the first game of the Indianapolis Regional. Holding the upper-hand all the way in the afternoon battle, the Redskins dropped Plainfield 66-54, to reach the final game with Crispus Attucks, winner in the afternoon over Alexandria. Coach Dick Cummins' crew faced Attucks, the team that barely got by them in City Tourney play, 59-54, and achieved sweeter revenge. The Varsity cagers hit the highly touted Tigers, 55-44. Using a two-posted attack, featuring the VanArsdale twins (who poured in 45 of the 55 Manual points), Manual advanced to the Semi-Finals of the state for the first time in 38 years. Connersville and Manual went at it in the first game of the next Saturday round with Muncie and Columbus following. Matters looked tough in the first half for the 'Skins with Connersville's Spartans holding a six point bulge at the first-quarter stop and a tie game at intermission. However, Manual came roaring back in the second half to win, 61-49. Muncie Central won over Columbus to meet Manual in the evening play-off. Muncie, the only team to beat Kokomo during the season, was down two points at the end of the first stanza and ten at the half. Leading at the end of the third also, Manual watched the Muncie five explode in the fourth period but not enough to catch the Redskins who won by a score of 62-59, to gain a State-Final berth for the first time since 1915. The final four teams in the state—Kokomo, Logansport, Tell City, and Manual—all came to the tourney with records of 20 wins or better. Manual drew Tell City for the first game of the afternoon session. Although the Redskins led 29-26 at the half, Tell City's Marksmen came back in the third period to trail Manual by one point, for a close-fought game.

Shown here are Seniors Dave Scheib and Larry Short in the opening game of the State Finals with Tell City. The Marksmen, not being able to compete with Manual's height or shooting ability, lost the first round stanza, 70-55. Kokomo downed Logansport in the second game to meet the Redskins in the Indiana State Finals that evening.

In the final stanza, the Redmen poured in 26 points to reach the Finals, 70-55. As was expected, Kokomo defeated Logansport in the afternoon's second game. The stage was set for what turned out to be one of the closest, hardest fought final games in Indiana basketball history. The Cumminsmen led at every stop except what should have been the last. The score being tied at 62-62, the game was forced into an overtime to decide a victor. A two-shot foul was awarded to Kokomo with seconds remaining in the three-minute extension. The two-shot foul proved fatal. Manual won the runner-up spot in the 1961 State! And all Redskins celebrated far into that night and for several weeks to come, ending with a "Greet the Team" program, sponsored by Masoma, Roines, and Student Affairs Board, on April 15 to honor our "champs."

Center Larry Short grabs a rebound. Leen Carter (40), Tom VanArsdale (22), Jim Cummings (14), and Dick VanArsdale (30) are ready to assist.

Kokomo's Jim Ligon gets a loose ball as Larry Short attempts to intercept. D. VanArsdale and Armen Cobb stand by.

Jim Cummings gives Muncie Central's Richie Williams a keen watching in the final game of the Semi-Final.

Cagers Close Out 'Best Season' With 28 Victories

Up in the air are dual Trester Award winners, Tom and Dick VanArsdale. The six-five, identical twins are shown in the afternoon game of the State Semi-Final.

Losses by graduation include Seniors Dave Scheib, Larry Short, Armen Cobb, Jim Cummings, Dick VanArsdale, and Tom VanArsdale. Returning veterans from the Varsity squad will be Chuck Dennison, Leon Carter, Jerry Cummins, Roger Wathen, Rex Hedegard, and Cornell Short. Throughout the season, four of the starting five—Larry Short, Jim Cummings, and the VanArsdale twins, were on everyone's all-tourney lists. Dick VanArsdale led the Manual scoring with 585 points with brother Tom following with 554 markers. Jim Cummings totaled 315 and Larry Short added 253. The fifth starter, Armen Cobb, scored 107 points.

Coach 'Mo's' Cindermen Run First in Eleven Meets

Manual's varsity ovalmen, under Coach Francis "Mo" Moriarty, closed out the 1960 track season with eleven wins against only three losses. Redskin cindermen broke and rebroke many records during the season. The climax was the Washington sectional in which Manual placed fifth with 161 $\frac{1}{4}$ points. In the Hoosier Relays, March 26, Manual won 13 medals, four in the two mile relay, four in low hurdle shuttle, one in shot-put, and four in the distance medley. Juniors Tom and Dick VanArsdale were standouts. Dick set three records in the high hurdles at 15.9, 15.8, and 15.5 seconds, and also holds Manual's outdoor shot-put record with a throw of 51 feet, 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches. In the low hurdles, Tom VanArsdale set a new record of 20.7. In the indoor shot-put event, Tom broke the school record with a throw of 53 feet, 4 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches, and set a high jump record of six feet, one and one-half inches.

Lining up are dashmen Tom and Dick VanArsdale, juniors, and Chuck Dennison and Don Kleppe, sophomores.

Clearing the bar for Manual is senior Pole Vaulter Jim Peters in the Ben Davis meet. The Redskins won 61-48.

One of the most outstanding sophomore tracksters was Leon Carter, who set a new half-mile record of 2:03.9.

REFLECTING MANUALITES

In future years, when we Manualites reflect on our high schools days, the album section is the place we shall look to find all our friends. Every one of our pictures is in this section, and these are the people with whom we have lived, "suffered," and learned during our high school days.

Faculty Redskins Encourage Us, Cheer Us On

Booster Sports Editor Bill Rhode presents the first Booster bumper strip, cut from the Semi-State Tournament issue, to Mrs. Mary Spiegel, secretary to Principal C. Edgar Stahl and secretary to all principals since 1915. The Booster dubbed her "Dame Manual" in the special edition put out for the Alumni Birthday Party.

Joining the Manual faculty makes loyal Redskins of teachers as is proved by the support our faculty members give all school activities. Our teachers inspire us to participate in academic competitions and egg us on to improve our grades and personalities and to develop dependability. They are interested in us. At the Sectional celebration, the faculty produced two cheerleaders of its own who led the entire group in a yell for our Alma Mater. Many of us felt just the way one sophomore expressed her reaction. "I was really 'got' when the teachers came running from all parts of the gym to give a yell. It was really great!" That's our Manual faculty!

Faculty men play "Dad" as they officiate behind the steam counter at the Dads Club Spaghetti Supper. Mr. Bonner Allee, Mr. Franklin Fisher, Mr. Harold Pagel, Mr. Noah Ellis, and Mr. Noble Poole prepare plates for hungry patrons.

Seniors Add 'Best-Ever' Year to Manual Reflections

On Senior Day, during ceremonies in the cafeteria after school, Principal C. Edgar Stahl presents the traditional gavel to Class President Tim Martin.

The largest Senior Class in Manual's history keyed their "big" year with the class motto, "The Door to Success Is Labeled 'Push.'" Official activities began with Senior Class Recognition Day in October. Class officers Tim Martin, president; Bonnie McKinney, vice-president; Larry Short, treasurer; and Linda Hansen, secretary, planned the day, along with the Senior Council, as one of their first duties. Council members were Wanda Bailey, Judy Crouch, Henry Drahos, Shirley Kratowicz, Larry Lindley, Deanna Reeves, Jan Stephenson, and Marcia Walker. All day, seniors attended classes. During Home Room, roses were distributed and class officers participated in the color code program. After school at the Senior Day meeting, Principal C. Edgar Stahl presented the Senior Gavel to Tim Martin; and Tim presided over the first Senior Class meeting. A party in the cafeteria concluded the day.

Seniors, selected by American Education Week Committee Mr. Harold Pagel, Mr. Wayne Kincaid, Miss Theo Parr, and Mr. Richard Blough, took over teachers' and administrators' duties on Turn-About Day in November. Bill Bloemker was Principal C. Edgar Stahl; Martha Goode, Vice-principal E. Franklin Fisher; Ronnie Cambridge, Vice-principal Noble Poole; Wanda Bailey, Dean of Girls Mrs. Vivian Siener; and Tom Fink, Dean of Boys John Patten.

A Christmas party for freshmen and a Valentine Tea for faculty were other important activities. Class gifts included a portrait, which is hung in the conference room, of Mr. Stahl, principal since 1952, and a curtain for the back of the gymnasium for commencement exercises. College-bound students made plans for college and were interviewed for scholarships in the spring. Also in the spring was the annual Senior Class Play. This year the all-senior production was "Lost Horizon" by James Hilton, May 19, in our "aud." Climaxing the year was the Senior Prom, which took place at the Indiana Roof Ballroom.

Top Pupils of Class of '61 Win Honors as Juniors
